

Youth Climate Summit 2020 Careers Conversations: Wednesday 11 November 1-2pm

Youth Climate Summit ambassadors and London Schools Eco-Network members

Alina, Lorenza, Lucie, Aadarsh and Andra in conversation with...

Jo Hand  Co-founder, Giki Jo is co-founder of Giki Social Enterprise, creators of digital products to help people live sustainably. The free Giki Badges app helps you find sustainable and healthy supermarket products. Giki Zero provides a step-by-step guide to a sustainable life. Previously Jo was an investigative journalist at the BBC and Channel 4.	Ed Scott  Assistant Harvest Manager, Riverford Ed did well at O-levels (=GCSEs) and wanted to go to university, but catastrophic A Level results ruled that out. After a number of jobs in hotels, bookshops and a fruit juice factory, Ed started at Riverford Organics on a 3-month seasonal picking contract and 17 years later is still there!	Bernardo Maza  Director of PPL PWR Bernardo, Director of the collective PPL PWR, comes from an Engineering background and has been working in environmental and societally relevant areas for the last 6 years. He has spent his career working on strategic and operative activities, with a strong focus on building systems for missions regarding sustainability.	Rebecca Shutt  PhD Student, UCL Rebecca is researching battery materials at University College London following a Chemistry degree and working for a UK small-medium enterprise developing sodium-ion batteries. She works with PPL PWR on outreach and has a podcast advocating for gender balance in STEM.
Federico Bellone  Regenerative Food Systems & Nature Based Solutions Lead, COP26 Climate Champions Team Federico studied environmental science and technology, and international relations (BSc, MSc, MA). He has worked on Pan-Amazon Basin forest conservation and is an Advisor to the Latin America BCorp movement, Capital Institute and Regenerative Communities Network, as well as a COP26 Climate Champions Team lead.	Sue Vincent  Senior Communications & Stakeholder Engagement Manager, Sofia and North Falls Offshore Wind Farms, RWE Renewables Sue has over 25 years' experience in energy-related communications and engagement, and 14 years in offshore wind. Her current roles at RWE include the c£3 billion Sofia Offshore Wind Farm and new project North Falls. She has a BA in Journalism and an MBA, both from the University of South Australia.	Jenny Hughes  Climate Change & Social Value Manager, Stantec Jenny studied Politics and Geography at Edinburgh University and has recently finished an MA in Environmental Management. She works at Stantec on land development and infrastructure projects such as renewable energy schemes, and is supporting their transition to a Net Zero Carbon Company.	Andy Ashton  Primary teacher, Green School Bali For the past 18 months Andy has been a primary teacher at Green School Bali, the most spectacular and inspirational school he has ever worked in. He has enjoyed (and not enjoyed) many previous jobs, including driving trucks, running a gardening business, volunteering in relief-work overseas, working at dozens of primary schools and cleaning gum off carpet.

Book your FREE place at: <https://www.transform-our-world.org/whats-on>